

Common Problems with Columbia Outdoor Cabinets

Preview

Outdoor cabinets have to deal with tough weather. The sun's UV rays fade colors and weaken surfaces. Freezing weather? It can crack or bend some materials. Columbia cabinetry is built with care, intention, and a deep respect for time-honored craftsmanship. From careful material selection to hands-on construction and finishing, every cabinet is made to support a lifetime of everyday living while showcasing the natural beauty and character it is installed. Rust is usually the first warning sign. Repair done outside of the Columbia Warranty Department may void Columbia's Limited Warranty applicable to your product. Please see complete warranty policies for outerwear.
