

Mobile fiber optic cable failure in Democratic Republic of Congo

Preview

A general technical failure on the WACS subsea cable disrupted internet access across the Democratic Republic of Congo. Regulators said maintenance work is underway while authorities weigh sanctions against telecom operators. Telecom operators in the Democratic Republic of Congo are asking the government for greater support as pressure grows over poor network quality and service disruptions across the country. In a statement on Wednesday, Jan.

The Democratic Republic of Congo (DRC) has moved to tackle one of the world's steepest connectivity gaps with a $400 million satellite internet partnership. The

The Republic of Congo is preparing to connect to a new undersea internet cable as repeated faults on the West Africa Cable System (WACS) continue to disrupt connectivity across the country.

Economic Impacts of Submarine Fiber Optic Cables and Broadband Connectivity in the Democratic Republic of Congo Working Paper 0214363.202.1

According to fibre optic cable operators, the landslide cut the West Africa Cable System (WACS) and SAT-3, two submarine cables that together serve around 20 countries over thousands

The Complete list of internet companies in Democratic Republic of the Congo, Kinshasa and other regions provides Satellite & VSAT, Business Internet, Cable Internet access, DSL, ADSL, SDSL,

At the Africa Digital Expo in Kinshasa last week, Fast Congo - a subsidiary of the pan-African operator, Paratus Group, in the Democratic

The European Investment Bank (EIB) announced, Saturday, a warrant agreement with the wholesale telecommunications infrastructure provider Bandwidth and Cloud Services (BCS). Under

The project concerns the second phase of the construction of a fibre optic backbone in DRC (Democratic Republic of Congo), focusing on underserved areas of the eastern part of the Fiber-optic backbone networks, towers, satellite and microwave links, last-mile connectivity, and network redundancy are needed to improve coverage and reliability.

A technical failure on the West Africa Cable System (WACS), which connects Europe to the African continent, has caused Internet disruptions in the Democratic Republic of Congo (DRC).

Mobile fiber optic cable failure in Democratic Republic of Congo

More than 2.5 million people living in the eastern regions of the Democratic Republic of the Congo (DRC) will benefit from faster, cheaper and more reliable digital connectivity thanks to new

In May 2018, LTE licenses were issued and Vodacom and Orange were the first two operators to launch the country's first commercial LTE networks. 5G is now a far-fetched goal in the

More than 2.5 million people living in remote eastern regions of the Democratic Republic of the Congo will benefit from transformed digital connectivity under new fibre-optic network

Congolese Fiber Optic Company (SOCOF SA) has reportedly signed a partnership with the Agency for the Coordination and Monitoring of Collaboration Agreements (APCSC) to deploy

Overview of fiber optic infrastructure and internet usage statistics in the Democratic Republic of Congo for 2026, highlighting digital growth and connectivity.

A technical failure on the WACS submarine cable has caused Internet disruptions in the Democratic Republic of Congo (DRC).

Web: <https://kalutha.co.za>

